Drastic Action Taken in Chicago Pit to Head Off Soaring Prices; Move Is Followed

TRADING IN FUTURES STOPS FOR TWO DAYS

Contracts May Be Liquidated, But New Business Held Over by Action; Supply Is Good

BY UNITED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
CHICAGO, May 14.—Following the action of the Chicago Board of Trade in setting a maximum price for July and September wheat, prices tumbled today in the pits. July at noon was off 20 cents from Saturday's closing—the maximum—at $2.55, and September was off 15 cents at $2.23.

All trading in wheat futures was barred for a period of two days by the Chicago Board of Trade today. Existing contracts, however, will be permitted to be liquidated at Saturday's closing prices. The board likewise barred all trading in corn and May oats for the entire month.

John H. Griffin, president of the board, in announcing this action, said it was taken after consultation with federal agents and representatives of the allied governments.

No announcement was made as to what will transpire after the expiration of the two-day period, as far as July and September wheat is concerned. May is permanently barred. July wheat closed at $2.75 and September at $2.48. The settlement price for May wheat was barred Saturday, when fixed at $3.18. May corn closed Saturday at $1.61 1/2. May oats closed at 73 1/2 cents.

MAY TRADING STOPS.

Griffin's statement follows:

"At a special meeting of the board of directors, held this morning, it was decided to discontinue all trading in May corn and May oats. It was further decided that for a period of two days no purchases of wheat whatever will be permitted, except to liquidate existing contracts."

The directors further restricted the operations in wheat by confining those desiring to close existing contracts to a maximum price which is based on Saturday's close.

"The action—over the board of directors has been taken after consultation with the accredited representatives of the allied governments. Otherwise, every step followed by us has been in co-operation with the officials of this government."

HYSTERIA IN CASE.

"There is plenty of grain in the country to carry us through. If it were not for hysteria, this wild frenzy which has seized America and the allied governments, in fact the whole world, there would be no such prices paid for wheat as at present. Not only are the governments at war buying with frenzy, but the neutrals as well. Governments all over the world seem crazed with the idea of getting grain. There is no need of this. If this hysteria could be forgotten, grain would drop."

"There is too much wild advice about farmers, who know nothing about agriculture, or its production."

"Asked if he had any reports to the effect that the German government had provided money to bid up the price of grain in order to make the allies pay higher for wheat, Griffin said:

"I have heard such rumors, but I doubt whether there is any truth in them."

The resolution adopted by the directors of the board follows:

"Resolved, from the opening of the market on Monday, May 14, 1917, 9:30 a. m., to the close of the market on Tuesday, May 15, 1:15 p. m., members of this board shall confine all trading in contract grades of wheat for future delivery in regular elevators to transactions for July and September delivery."

"No member shall make any purchase of wheat during the period stated except in liquidation of existing contracts. Members may enter the contracts of sale without limitation except as to price as hereinafter stated."

"No contracts for July delivery shall be entered into at a price in excess of $2.75 per bushel. No contracts for September delivery shall be entered into at a price in excess of $2.45 per bushel."

"It is resolved, any member trading in violation of the foregoing shall be deemed to have committed a grave offense against the good name of the association."

FOLLOWS SUIT.

KANSAS CITY, May 14.—The directors of the Kansas City Board of Trade today took action similar to that of the Chicago exchange. The difference is that May contracts in wheat and corn here must not be closed out at certain fixed prices as in the case of Chicago. Neither is any date set here before which such contracts must be closed.

Representatives of the local board will go to Chicago for a conference tomorrow relative to further action to be taken in the matter of controlling prices. George S. Kenyon, president of the Kansas City Exchange, expressed as his belief that the conference would mark the beginning of the end of speculation in grain futures."

Patten Says Board Is Not to Blame

CHICAGO, May 14.—James A. Patten, who is conceded to be an authority on grain market affairs, explained the wheat situation today thus:

"The millers and the allies have been bidding against each other and that sent up prices. The allies have bought a million of dollars worth of wheat and then protected themselves by buying futures. The Board of Trade isn't to blame. Everybody's panic-stricken. Nobody in particular has made much money."

"How about the statement of Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of agriculture, that the farmer averaged no more than $1.30 a bushel for last year's crop?" he was asked.

"Mr. Vrooman doesn't know," said Patten.

Superintendent of the County Hospital Declares That He Is 'Tired of Whole Rotten Mess'

NEVER HAD SUPPORT OF CHAIRMAN HEYER

Welfare Workers May Call for Referendum Vote on Site for the New Institution

Here is what happened incidental to the regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors this morning:

Dr. C. A. Wills, superintendent of the county hospital and infirmary, announced that his resignation would be in the hands of the board next Thursday morning.

Members of the Welfare Commission of Alameda county, after protesting against the board's delay in purchasing a site for a new county hospital, retired from the meeting, went to the Hotel Oakland to frame an initiative petition to force the supervisors to fix on and purchase one particular site—the old California Baptist college site at Fourteenth Avenue and Twenty-seventh street.

It was agreed that initiative petitions will be circulated for other sites in Oakland which have been offered. It is feared by many who favor an Oakland hospital that the chances will be jeopardized by dividing the vote between several propositions likely to appear on the ballot.

The resolution providing for the dismissal of James Dignan, workman at the infirmary, who was involved with the institution butcher with the receipt and subsequent removal against orders of the cardinals three goats which were delivered instead of nine, motion was sidetracked.

Supervisor Fred Foss, blaming Chairman of the Board Daniel J. Murphy for this action and charging that whitewash had been applied and Chairman Murphy, in turn, blaming Foss for the pigeonholing of the resolution.

The statement by Supervisor Foss that he would "get" Dr. Wills was made, according to Chairman Murphy, at an informal meeting before the regular meeting.

ENDS IT ALL

"I am tired of the whole rotten business," said Dr. Wills in announcing his resignation. "I have never had the support of Supervisor Charles Heyer, chairman of the hospital committee. The least the board could have done in the case of Dignan was to reprimand him. He disobeyed orders in allowing him goat meat to be removed from the institution on the eve of an investigation and yet he is stabilized by a board. No man can properly run a hospital under these circumstances. Without the proper support of the Board of Supervisors it is impossible to give the public a square deal. For these reasons I am resigning as a protest to such actions."

A delegation of members of the Welfare Commission of Alameda County, accompanied by a number of social workers, attended the meeting of the board. Charles E. Snook, the commission's attorney, requested that the board take immediate action on the question of a site for the proposed million dollar county hospital.

SNOOK STATES VIEW.

In speaking of the board's action in setting August 11 as the tentative date for the calling of a special bond election to give the people an opportunity to authorize the sale of bonds for the purchase of a $100,000 site for the erection of the hospital in Oakland or to express their desire that it should be built on the present site, Attorney Snook said:

"Why place upon the ballot the price of a site when no site is in mind? If we can purchase a site for $60,000 why ask the people to spend $100,000? The California Baptist College site can be purchased for $47,500. It was chosen by the Welfare Commission after long and careful consideration. If the board thinks the price is too high it has the power to institute condemnation proceedings and get it at what value a board might demand."

SHOULD BE CLEARED UP.

Supervisor Foss requested that argument upon the matter be reopened and social workers, members of the Welfare Commission present and others interested were invited to address the board on the subject. Foss said:

"There is a feeling of dissatisfaction with the way in which this board has handled this matter. It should be cleared up. When an organization like the Welfare Commission of Alameda County, whose personnel stands for itself, recommends a site after much labor and time has been spent, I think the least we can do is to give it some consideration. Let us sit on a site and then ask for funds."

Supervisor Heyer urged that the proper action was to submit the whole matter to the people at the proposed special election August 14. He said:

"I believe the people should have a voice in this matter. The people can build this hospital anywhere. Let them vote and express their opinion. I do not believe the people in Alameda county are sufficiently familiar with hospital conditions and therefore

RUSSIAN WAR HEAD QUIT AFTER FIGHT

BY UNITED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

PETROGRAD, May 14.—Minister of War and Marine Gutschoff announced his resignation today in a dramatic statement to soldiers' delegates from the front, asserting that Russia's existence was menaced by dual control plans for the army and navy.

His resignation, he said, was necessary in view of conditions in which the power of the government and especially the authority of the minister of war and marine, has been placed, and which I am powerless to alter."

These conditions, the minister said, "threaten consequences fatal to the defense, liberty—and even the existence—of Russia."

"I can no longer share responsibility in the grave sin being committed against the country," he concluded.

M. Gutschoff was formerly a member of the council of the empire, a president of the third Duma, and prominent in the Zemstvo movement in Russia. He was known as a Liberal of great ability.

Presumably his resignation comes about as a result of the increasing friction between the Russian military department and the soldiers' and workmen's delegates. General Korniloff, commander of the Petrograd garrison, resigned that post yesterday for that reason.

Gutschoff's most recent orders to the Russian army indicated his extreme moderation. He decreed a conference with representatives of the soldiers, that there should be complete equality between officers and enlisted men; that enlisted men need not salute their superiors; that the service "star" need not be used and that corporal punishment be utterly abolished.

tained by French army headquarters and applied to the Twenty-first German infantry division, which lost 2100 prisoners; the Fifth Bavarian reserve division, which lost 1374 prisoners, and the Sixteenth reserve division, 1111 prisoners, show each sustained total losses averaging from half to three-fourths of their effectiveness.

Other German divisions have suffered such losses that they now exist in name only. The Forty-fourth division of German reserves, for instance, sustained heavy losses during the Hirschberg attack at Lasso, La Fere and Mont. It ended the battle of Chemin Des Dames April 18, averaging only 160 men per company.

French artillery wiped out from 20 to 50 per cent of the effectives of its various battalions and French infantry took 1600 prisoners of its ranks. This means the division is now non-existent.

HAG MAKES PROGRESS.

LONDON, May 14.—Progress in the village of Rouex was announced by Field Marshal Haig today.

"Northeast of Eppes and to the north of Ypres hostile raids were repulsed," he reported. "A few were taken prisoner. At Rouex we progressed during the night in the village."

Rouex has been a storm center of fighting for the past three or four days. As at Fresnoy and Bullecourt, the German attacks there have been almost continuous, and the fighting of greatest intensity. Rouex is one of the key points in the Oppy supplemental line of German defense.

FRENCH INFILTRATION LOSSES.

PARIS, May 14.—French troops inflicted heavy losses on German reconnaisance patrols at a number of points along the front last night, to-day's official statement asserted. The German attacks were particularly strong northeast of Vaudreuil, west of Craonne, Hill 108 and in the Champagne.

The war office said the usual canoodling was in progress over most of the front.

GERMANS WITHDRAW 600,000.

PETROGRAD, May 14.—Germany has withdrawn forces (approximately 600,000 men) from the Russian east front and hurried them to France to oppose the Franco-British offensive, according to information from Russian headquarters, featured today in Petrograd newspapers.

SPRING CAMPAIGN OPENED.

ROME, May 14.—Increasing aerial and artillery activity on the Austro-Italian front, especially on the Carso plateau, indicates that the real spring campaign is about to open.

Despatches from the front today said that the big guns have been active for forty-eight hours all the way from Tolmino to the Adriatic.

PASTOR IS HELD

DES MOINES, Ia., May 14.—Rev. Mr. George J. Kelly, aged 25, an itinerant minister of Sutton, Neb., is in jail at Red Oak, Ia., accused of the murder of eight persons in Villisca, Ia., in 1912.

State Attorney-General H. M. Hawner, who made this announcement here this afternoon, stated that, with Kelly's indictment and arrest, the mystery of the famous Villisca ax murders is solved.

HEADACHES

Thousands of men and women suffer from headaches every day, other thousands have headaches every week or every month, and still others have headaches occasionally, but not every day or every week. The doctor is often unable to find the cause of many of these headaches, and in most other cases, knowing the cause, he does not know what will cure it, or if there is any permanent cure. All he can do is prescribe some pain relievers, which give temporary relief, but the headache returns usually, and treatment becomes necessary. If you suffer from headaches and have been unable to determine the cause, take anti-kaminal tablets, and obtain the greatest possible relief. You can obtain them at all druggists in any quantity. No. 10, 20 worth or more. Ask for A-K Tablets.

SICK-HEADACHES

Sick headache, the most miserable of all maladies, loses terrors when A-K Tablets are taken. When you feel an attack coming on take two tablets, and in many cases, the attack is over. If you are suffering an attack, take one A-K Tablet every two hours. The rest and comfort which follow, can be obtained in no other way.

not able to decide on a location, if indeed, they desire any change at all.

At this point Supervisor Heyer was interrupted by several persons who wanted to address the board. Chairman Murphy finally recognized Miss Beatrice McCall, secretary of the Women's Protective Bureau.

WHY ASK FOR VOTE.

"Why ask the people to vote on a blanked proposition merely asking for the expenditures of $100,000 without naming a site or even a district?" said Miss McCall.

At this point she was interrupted and Supervisor Heyer continued.

"There has been a great deal printed about conditions at the county hospital," said Heyer, "but I question it any if it is true. You people," Heyer continued, waving his hands in the direction of Miss McCall, members of the Welfare Commission and others seated in the public gallery, "by assaulting the board and charging inhuman treatment is given inmates of the institution are certainly not making friends on this board. Personally I can't stand it."

HOSTILE TO BOARD.

Miss McCall again interrupted Heyer. She said:

"I am hostile to you, Mr. Heyer, and hostile to this board and I have no reason. When I sit in my office and poor sick people come to me, whom I know I cannot give the proper help, I do feel hostile to anyone who is responsible for such conditions as we have in this county."

"I plead against delay," said Miss McCall. "Supposing that the people at the election proposed to be held August 14 authorize the raising of $100,000 for a site by what magic, may I ask, can we be sure that this board will get together and agree upon a site?"

"I suppose the present location of the hospital is a poor one and many others who have given the matter any attention are convinced. It is the poor who go to the county hospital—not the rich—and the poor cannot conveniently visit their sick on an evening or during a short space of time during the day. It is miles away from the center of population and that is not all. Mr. Chairman, I had in my office one day a girl who was about to be confined. I telephoned to the hospital for some conveyance to take her out there. The people responded to call a car open at the back, driven by a fractious horse. A baby was born before we reached the institution."

"The poor are not getting a square deal from this county. That's why I am hostile to this board."

SHOULD CHOOSE SITE.

Mr. Duncan McDuffie, member of the Welfare Commission, addressed the board as follows:

"I have a strong feeling that if the board will first select a site the people will more easily vote the bonds. But with an indefinite proposition like the one the supervisors intend to place before the people, I do not think any part of the program for the new hospital will go through. Choose a site now—otherwise we may lose altogether.

SHOULD CHOOSE SITE.

Mr. Duncan McDuffie, member of the Welfare Commission, addressed the board as follows:

"I have a strong feeling that if the board will first select a site the people will more easily vote the bonds. But with an indefinite proposition like the one the supervisors intend to place before the people, I do not think any part of the program for the new hospital will go through. Choose a site now—otherwise we may lose altogether.

Chairman, I had in my office one day a girl who was about to be confined. I telephoned to the hospital for some conveyance to take her out there. The people responded to call a car open at the back, driven by a fractious horse. A baby was born before we reached the institution."

"The poor are not getting a square deal from this county. That's why I am hostile to this board."

SHOULD CHOOSE SITE.

YOUTH DENIES MURDER CHARGE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—Implicated as an accomplice in the killing of Police Officer George Connelly through the confession of Minnesota of Frank J. McCool, Joseph L. Redenbaugh, the 19-year-old boy, formerly Powell Hethcock, and his wife, formerly Powell Hethcock, and both charged with the murder of Mrs. Alice Dunn. Then deny guilt of this charge.

The bellboy admits that he began a life of crime by stealing automobiles. On February 16 he held up the bank in University Place, Nebraska, and took $1931. The next day he was married in Kansas City and from there went to Omaha, Salt Lake and St. Paul.

They demanded that Bartolone and Marcella hand over their valuables. Bartolone attempted to seize the weapon of the robber nearest him and both bandits opened fire.

OROVILLE, May 14.—Fifty land owners, patrons of the Gridley Land and Water Company, have taken forcible possession of the water system to save their crops on 2000 acres, it became known today. The seizure took place in the early morning between the land owners and representatives of the water company relative to time of payment for irrigation supply resulted in the shutting off of the water.

Crops were threatened with destruction. Water users proceeded to open the flood gates, placed their own guards in charge, irrigated the crops and then notified State Railroad Commission.

BUNGALOW PRIZE

A bungalow, completely furnished and a dead to a lot in Howe street, will be given away at Idora Park Sunday next, May 20.

The house and lot comprise the most valuable gate prize ever offered by an amusement park.

The idea to give away a bungalow and lot was inspired by the "Buy-a-Home First" movement. "Why buy a home?" Get one free at Idora May 20," is the slogan adopted by the park management and sent broadcast over the cities.

For the past week, the bungalow, furnished by the John Brewer Company, has been on exhibition at the park.

While Bungalow Day, Sunday, is the big feature of the week, several other events are scheduled. Thursday evening the third of a series of free dances will be held in the dancing pavilion with Barnes' orchestra furnishing the synchronized jazz music.

Saturday afternoon the second performance in the newly established Children's Theater will be staged. Parents with interested children are much interested in this Idora fair, as its purpose of the children's theater is to encourage the development of the dramatic and musical talent of boys and girls.

BIDS COME WEST

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Signing of the first contract for ship construction under the administration's billion dollar program, the first having been let to the federal shipping board.

The contract went to the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, and called for delivery in 1918 of eight steel vessels, each to carry 8800 tons of cargo.

The shipping board plan to have built within the next eighteen months at least 1000 ships, steel and wood, of more than 3,000,000 aggregate tonnage, to combat the German submarine campaign. Bills introduced in Congress this week called for an initial appropriation of $100,000,000.

Lee, who is a powerful swimmer, had difficulty in bringing his comrade through the water.

He was instrumental in the killing of the officer. He implicated Redenbaugh as his companion. McCool denies that he or Redenbaugh had any part in the killing of Mrs. Dunn.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—The freight handlers' strike in the port of the Southern Pacific Company was declared off at a meeting of the union today and some of the men are already back to work.

The strike, which had been suspended for the duration of the war, was called for the protection of employees who walked out provided there were vacancies, but would not discharge any of the men now employed.

NEW FLOUR RISE

FLOUR in this city soared to $4 a 49-pound sack today, when another jump of 40 cents per sack became effective. This makes an additional 40-cent per sack weekly. The price of a barrel of flour, containing four sacks, has been advanced to $15, which makes a new record. The increase is reflected in the bay cities and small flour merchants look for a still further raise soon.

All the ingredients in this combination work together in harmony, and are absolutely harmless. No opiates, no heart depressants, no habit-forming drugs.

Why not begin taking these two medicines—one before meals, the other after—as soon as you can get them.—Advertisement.

Not often is it given to a man and woman to celebrate together the golden anniversary of their wedding. Just once in a while it happens and when it does it becomes an occasion to be specially marked and rejoiced in. It is one of the beautiful celebrations which helps to keep faith in life strong and sweet. In these days of swift marriage and swifter divorce, the serene, conquering joy of a couple who, silvery-haired, come up to the fiftieth year of their wedded story, still devoted and happy with a deep happiness which their young love never knew, holds that which demands reverence and homage.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Dickey are one of these fortunate couples to whom the privilege of celebrating together a golden wedding has come. And the joy is to be made the occasion of a large family gathering to which many friends of the years will be summoned. The Dickeys are not only numbered with the prominent people in this part of the state, but in the Hawaiian Islands they claim important family connections and a wide circle of friends. There are a number who will cross the Pacific to be with them on the notable day. Among their relatives here are Mrs. S. T. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Alexander and Mrs. A. Montague Turner.

The first wedding was named for May 23, 1867, an earlier war period. The golden wedding will be celebrated on Tuesday, May 29. The reception which is being planned to bring together the large number of guests will have the C. W. Dickey residence in Dracina avenue as the setting. Cards have already been issued for the function in compliment to the interesting bridal couple of half a century.

One of the very interesting anniversaries tells of the marriage of Frederick Coffing Wells and Miss Flora Jane Phelps which was solemnized in Hollywood on Wednesday, April 25. The honeymoon completed, Mr. and Mrs. Wells will establish themselves in an attractive home in Oakland and a most cordial welcome will be given the charming young girl who has joined the ranks of the younger matrons. The romance of Wells and she who this spring became his wife is a pretty one dating back some fifteen years when they first met as far away as Burlington, Vermont. Their friendship has never lapsed, culminating in the simple ceremony of a few weeks ago.

Only a little company of intimates were numbered with those who witnessed the exchange of the marriage vows at the residence of the Phelps family in Hollywood. An unusual feature and one which held a lovely sentiment was the bride choosing to wear her mother's wedding gown—an exquisite brocaded satin of blue. With it was carried a quaint shower bouquet combining orchids with Cattleya flowers and ferns.

Wells is prominently known in local banking circles, having receiving letters for the Central National Bank of this city. Mrs. Wells is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Phelps.

The James K. Morris family grew a bit weary of their beautiful Piedmont villa and decided to close it for a few weeks while they visited a new atmosphere across the bay. They have been occupying apartments at the Fairmont.

Miss Frances Mathieu will be a tea hostess of Thursday afternoon, sharing the hospitality of her San Francisco home with a congenital group of the younger set who are summoned from both sides of the bay. The pretty May Queen will arrive in company to Miss Virginia Larn, a popular young Berkeley maid who is spending a part of the earlier summer in San Francisco. There have been a number of favors offered her during her visit with friends.

Miss Lucile Johnson left yesterday for Cleveland, Ohio, where immediately upon her arrival she will plan her wedding with Stanley J. Smith. Miss Johnson was accompanied by her mother. The ceremony will be a simple one taking place in about a fortnight. The announcement of the marriage plans comes without the preliminaries of a betrothal announcement and is bringing no little surprise to the many friends of the family in the bay cities. After their honeymoon Smith and his bride will establish a home in Philadelphia. Smith is the son of Captain William Smith, a retired sea captain, and Mrs. Smith of this city, and is himself a marine engineer, stationed on the Atlantic. Miss Johnson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Johnson.

Already Belvoir with its attractive setting is luring front town, the local smart set, among the first to submit to the temptation of the early summer in the picturesque resort being Mrs. Herbert Hamilton Brown. Mrs. Brown with her daughter, Miss Willett Brown, are expected to remain away

"CLIFF HOUSE" COMICAL

Marital infidelity in all its various ramifications, but striped of the tragic side, is presented in the form of "A Night at the Cliff House," by Lou Jacobs.

Will King in the role of "Keye Leschinsky" plays the leading role and shares honors with Reece Gardner, Ned Hayes, Teddy La Rue, Clair Starr, Laura Vail and Louise Gregory. He is also assisted materially by an augmented chorus which was well received.

The play opens in the home of "Johanna Brown," a staunch church member well along in years who has a tempestuous son and who possesses the services of a chic French maid. Shortly the action commences. "Keye Leschinsky," who has come along with his charming wife, "Leschinsky," has come to the city for his health.

It devolves shortly afterward that the son, played by Gardner, is an adventurous and wild hearted companion for the night life. "Leschinsky" played "King" is not ill but in search of his million's amusement in the world of pleasure. "King" too is not all that his family think him and occasionally takes a drink.

Some of the musical hits are "Oh, Papa," by Ruby Adams and chorus; "Indiana,"

GERMAN PEOPLE ARE DISCUSSED

"The Germany With Which We Are at Peace," was the subject of the sermon preached last evening by Rev. Albert W. Palmer in Plymouth Congregational church. He said in part:

"It would be the supreme tragedy of the world war if we should allow ourselves to become the victims of any bitterness against the German people or any dangerous lack of appreciation of all that is great and noble in German life and thought."

"We are at war with the Imperial German government because in its desperation that government "has thrown aside all considerations of humanity and of right and wrong and is running amuck," as President Wilson has said. Against the ruthless militarism that violated the neutrality of Belgium, that disregards the established rights of human life at sea and plots invasion against us from our neighbors—against this sort of a government there seems no recourse but war. But we must remember that it is the present who says "an irresponsible government." It has not been elected by the German people and it has not represented their noble impulses."

THOSE WE ARE AT PEACE.

"There is a Germany with which we are at peace."

"It is the Germany of the Reformation which gave to the world Martin Luther and the great German mystics like Tauler and the Moravians. It is the Germany of Hegel to Lotze and Eucken and of great poetry—Goethe, the Schiller and Heine. It is the Germany of Biblical scholarship and religious insight, of Schillermacher and Weiss, of Julicher and Harnack—with all this side of Germany we have no war."

"There is also the Germany of music, of Bach, Haydn, Beethoven, Mozart, Strauss and Wagner. There is the Germany of happy friend; social life, of Christmas trees and fairy tales, and children's toys. There is the Germany of social insurance and care for working people—a Germany from whom we have much to learn. And there is the Germany of clean streets and well ordered cities which has so much to teach us along the lines of civic administration and city planning. With all this nobler Germany we are at peace!"

PERIOD OF RECONSTRUCTION.

"Some day this will end and the period of reconstruction will come. That day will be easier and more hopeful if we have, in the meantime, kept our hearts from all bitterness, if even in the strife of war we have been just and generous in our inner thought and spoken word concerning the great German people with those autocratic and irresponsible government we are at war."

"When the World Republic comes at last the German people will bring their contribution into it—a worthy contribution of music, philosophy and scholarship, of civic order and industrial efficiency."

F. Waste. Johnson is an Englishman, married to a Boston girl, and was married in San Francisco on July 1, 1911. Three months later, said Johnson, his wife departed for Europe, and did not return until October 24, 1913.

Formerly he was an aero officer in the Swedish army, but when the war was first declared, became a volunteer in the French forces. He has a gallant record. One of the delightful affairs which was offered in compliment to him was that at which Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Frisell entertained at the Mount Diablo club. OAKS BACK IN THIRD PLACE BY DOUBLE WIN

Krause and Prough Each Go Extra Inning Route to Nose Out Tigers; O'Mara in Fight

(Special to The TRIBUNE)
LOS ANGELES, May 14.—Del Howard and his Oaks will go to Salt Lake this week with the confidence of feeling that Harry Krause has developed into a running mate for Clinton Prough so that the Oaks can go through the season with two headline pitchers to bear the brunt of the heavy work. For Krause and Prough each went the limit for extra inning wins yesterday that made it five wins out of six for the Oaks on the series with the Tigers, and Oakland is again back in the first division, trailing only two and a half games behind the league leading Bees.

This week the Oaks and Bees tangle on the Salt Lake lot in their first meeting of the season and it looks like a battle for first place. Oakland hardly figures to take five out of six from the Bees, and even that margin would leave Howard's crew half a game behind the Salt Lake boys. But the Oaks should not get worse than a double-header, and that is saying a lot for them when one considers the advantage that the Bees enjoy in playing on their home grounds where everything from climate to the sunlight is different than in any other city in the league.

A free-for-all mix-up featured the afternoon game yesterday, but that did not detract from the glory of Oakland's double win. Krause hurled a great game of ball for a one-to-nothing, ten-inning win in the morning. In the afternoon Ollie O'Mara tangled with Mitchell when it looked as though Mitchell were trying the bean ball; blows were exchanged before the scrappers were separated, and after they had been banished by the umpires, police had to come to the rescue to put a stop to hostilities outside the clubhouse. Decanniere took up the pitching task where Mitchell had left it and the Oaks waited until the thirteenth inning before they nosed in with a 5-to-4 victory.

Krause allowed only six hits in the morning game, fanning five and issuing three walks. Chief Johnson was wild, issuing seven walks and throwing in a wild-pitch. He allowed only three hits for the ten innings, but his own wildness beat him in the tenth when Krause drew a walk and Lane's hit finished his trip around the sacks with the only run of the game.

Again in the afternoon the Oaks were doubly outhit by Vernon, and again the Oaks showed that they do not need to outhit the other fellow to beat him. Prough kept thirteen hits scattered through thirteen innings, and the poor Vernon run-making machine could not make as many runs out of those thirteen hits as the Oaks make out of six. The Oaks also threw in four errors to see how much they could give the Tigers and still beat them.

Bill Kenworthy Is Purchased by Chance to Bolster Up Angels

PORLAND, Ore., May 14.—Purchase of infielder William Kenworthy from the St. Louis Americans was announced by Fred Kenworthy, manager of the Los Angeles team. Sunday, Kenworthy, who will join Los Angeles at once, was formerly with Oakland and Sacramento.

Ehmke Hurls Detroit to a 12-Inning Win Over the Red Sox

Peckingpaugh made one of the two hits his team scored, shown by their ancient pinx, Eddie Crotte, Byrd Lynn, Farmer, and Ehmke. Ehmke was held the plate for the White Sox, and Crotte, Lynn went hitless against Cobb. As did also Weaver, Risberg made one of two and Bodie one of the two athletic hits. Bodie, who pitched St. Louis to an 8 to 1 win, Ehmke broke into the limelight again when he held the Red Sox to five and Detroit to only a 2 to 1 twelve-inning win when he held Peckingpaugh to a win. Cobb's twelfth inning couple gave the Tigers their win, chasing in Bush with the winning run. Helmlein made one hit to score the other Detroit run. Vitt and Young had hits, while Young and Ehmke went hitless. Homer made one hit for the Red Sox and Lewis went hitless.

Shaw of Washington allowed Cleveland only two hits, but the Yankees won 2 to 0. Corleveski allowed Washington five hits. Guisto failed to hit for Cleveland.

Four Hits in Tenth Give Angels a Game for a Real Victory

PORLAND, May 14.—Los Angeles won a ball game yesterday, it was the first win in nine games. Portland lost the ball game, it was the first Beaver loss after winning six games in seven games. The game went extra innings before the Angels romped away with three runs in the tenth for an 8-to-5 win. Portland had one of the five games played for the week.

Chance's Angels almost threw the game away in the ninth and then got mad in the tenth and decided to take it back.

With the score 5-5, Beavers 2, Curly Brown and Jack Ryan staged a walking duel and gave four bases on balls, forcing three runs across, tying the count.

Angel batsmen rushed into the breach in the extra session, however, and Ellis, Bassler, Giechmann, and Davis singled successively, scoring thrice.

Ball Players Should Be in Trench or on a Farm, Says Governor

RALEIGH, N. C., May 14.—"The man who plays professional baseball ought to be either in a trench or in a farm," said Governor Bickett, in an address yesterday. The people of North Carolina, urging the baseball players to be disbanded and that the people of towns and cities use idle hours and idle men to make food for the men.

The Governor addressed the cities and towns to have vacant lots plowed and turned over free of rent and with fertilizer to people who will cultivate them. "A hundred men will be more employed in this way," he said. "It will be better for the streets of a town to be unswept for two weeks in May than for our panties to be bare next winter."

Alameda Elks Winners by Hitting Schammel

Alameda and Fremont staged some real baseball at the Oakland Coast League last yesterday, and Alameda rolled in a winner, 4 to 2. Portland allowed the Oakland players only two hits for the day, but they gave the Alameda team a 10-inning win when he picked out one of Schammel's knobs for a drive that counted four bases. Goldsworthy featured with the bat for Alameda, hitting three times in three times up.

NATION LOOKS TO COLLEGES, SAYS HANNA

Stephens, Recovered From Illness, Walks With Class

Savant Keeps Annual Engagement With U. C. Seniors

Tribune Bureau
503 Shattuck Ave.

BERKELEY, May 14.—How the nation looks to college men to be its leaders in this time of stress, when their university days should have fitted them for the task and how Lincoln might well serve them as high example were the points on which Rev. Edward J. Hanna, archbishop of San Francisco, expatiated to nine hundred graduating students of the University of California in the Greek theater yesterday afternoon.

The event was the annual baccalaureate sermon of the graduates. These assembled in Hall at 2:30 p.m. and marched in columns of two to their place below the diazoma of the theater. More than six thousand other persons listened to Archibishop Hanna's address.

The speaker expressed "his gladness that the time of wavering in the face of humanity's demands for the United States to cast its arms in the present world war had passed." The period he declared, was due to the fact that "we have forgotten the God of our fathers, man's inborn sovereignty and the example of Lincoln and the Constitution."

"In the midst of the most titanic conflict that the world has ever seen, you go forth from the peaceful shades of alma mater to your place in the ranks of your brother men."

"We have gathered here to wish you 'God speed' and to pray upon your heads success and strength; to bid you to your feet and move unto your arms that you may be the palm of victory."

BATTLE FOR RIGHT. "We sing for you no sure song of pleasure, but song of great sacrifice, with banners unfurled we call you to battle for God, for right and for the freedom won for you by your fathers."

"Indeed, it is a glorious task, but to accomplish it will be the man of courage, of great strength of intelligence, of wide culture and broad mind."

"Take it for granted that your splendid opportunity will fit you to guide the wise policies of the nation."

"Take it for granted that the leaders of men transmit best the inheritance of the past."

"An obligation to sacrifice private interests for the weal of the race is now imposed upon you. If you lead not, you will be led."

"You are the torch-bearers of democracy and freedom, and you must feel in yourselves what democracy and freedom really are."

"There is no story in the annals of man so interesting as that of the struggle for freedom, the story of the struggle that the people might rule."

"In this chosen land of ours no man can be a workman of great inheritance who does not feel that he is willing to sacrifice everything, even his life."

"Government by the people means faith in the government. Such truth may ever be the fairest flower of religion for only religion has taught man his greatest brightness, his dignity in God and in nature."

MEN OF HOPE.

"But the men who witnessed the struggle of the people upward were men of great and lasting hope. They believed in the righteousness of their cause and had faith in the persistence of their ideal in spite of other men and those who ruled with rods of iron."

"The men who stand for freedom, the men who believe in the welfare of the people, must be lovers of men and man is only lovable when viewed from the standpoint of religion, when viewed from the eyes of God."

"Men who have labored in behalf of humanity have kept their eyes only upon the present, only upon earth, they have tired, because they have failed to look up to the high estate to be so weak, so low, so vile."

"But the great lovers of men, those who have been willing, through ages, to give all for their brethren, have looked upon man as God's express Christ looked upon them, and loved them to the end."

"And this great love for man is absolutely the secret of all triumphs, if triumph is ever to achieve a perfect triumph."

Democrat of the type of Lincoln, believing as he did, that God's hands were the destinies of men, looked to God to help him in his high place and destiny. And they risked all that their ideals might stand.

In tracing through history the successive great periods of democratic government it becomes clear that the corruption of ideals has always been the fore-runner of tyranny and oppression.

"Men place their happiness in wealth in material possessions. In wealth, in fort, in luxury, in popular applause, in power, and they forget that these things pass, yes with the night; they forget the truth and justice and mercy and law and public service do not pass, but endure forever."

"But it is only religion that teaches man these truths, for it is high impossible for man, who is not a saint, to future life can consistently and eternally give up the things that the world so esteems, to the end that justice may be triumphant."

ALL TO SHARE.

"Government by the people demands of each man in his own place a developed sense of responsibility. Every man must take his place, and his fellow men must look to him to his lot. Above all things he must choose with wise appreciation and without hope of personal advantage, the men whom he entrusts with authority over himself and his ideals. And when he has done this, the sacrifices which must ever be made if freedom's standards are to remain unfurled."

PROFESSOR HENRY MORSE STEPHENS.

JELLIFFE TO HEAD STAFF OF NAVY

LONDON, May 14.—Britain's nation-wide clamor for a shakeup in the admiralty and greater energy in combating the submarine menace resulted in an announcement of numerous naval changes in the House of Commons to-day by Sir Edward Carson. Carson, himself apparently has weathered the storm of criticism and retains his cabinet place as first lord of the Admiralty.

The fifty-fourth commencement will be celebrated in the hall at 10 a.m. Wednesday morning with the annual alumni luncheon out of doors in Faculty glade at 12:30 p.m., a pilgrimage of the alumni to North Hall at 1 p.m. to bid farewell to the old building, and to go to the new, and then a pilgrimage to Benjamin Ide Wheeler Hall, that the splendid new granite classroom building may formally be welcomed by the members of the faculty.

At 4 o'clock the class returns before commencement in the college calendar.

One of the big events of the year of the Advertising Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce will be the luncheon tomorrow, which will be "Water Day." The subject will be discussed by two of the best posted men in California, W. E. Fife, president of the East Bay Water Company, and G. H. Wilbur, general manager and chief engineer of the same company, while H. C. Capwell, one of the best boosters Oakland has, will preside. So great has been the demand for reservations that the luncheon will be held in the main dining room of Hotel Oakland on the first floor. In addition to the addresses of the day there will be a number of "stunts" secured by Chairman G. H. Fife of the Advertising Bureau, including Jane and her rosebud girls from the Orpheum and Bo Hall, singing monologists from Portage.

The two leading officials of the water company will take the people of Oakland fully into their confidence, and tell just what the company is aiming at and what it is trying to accomplish, not only in the way of financial reorganization, but in the way of future development. As the reorganized company now includes all water supply from Richmond around to Alameda, it is time to make a formal statement.

Sir John Jellicoe was the main figure in the last admiralty shakeup, by which Admiral Sir Henry Jackson was retired from the post of first sea lord.

The purpose of the changes, Sir

Edward Carson announced to the house, "is to free the naval staff from administrative work, and secondly, to strengthen the top building department of the admiralty."

The subject will be discussed by two of the best posted men in California, W. E. Fife, president of the Advertising Bureau, and G. H. Wilbur, general manager and chief engineer of the same company, while H. C. Capwell, one of the best boosters Oakland has, will preside. So great has been the demand for reservations that the luncheon will be held in the main dining room of Hotel Oakland on the first floor. In addition to the addresses of the day there will be a number of "stunts" secured by Chairman G. H. Fife of the Advertising Bureau, including Jane and her rosebud girls from the Orpheum and Bo Hall, singing monologists from Portage.

The two leading officials of the water company will take the people of Oakland fully into their confidence, and tell just what the company is aiming at and what it is trying to accomplish, not only in the way of financial reorganization, but in the way of future development. As the reorganized company now includes all water supply from Richmond around to Alameda, it is time to make a formal statement.

AN OFFICIAL ALARMIST.

An Alameda County official of such rank that his statements on any subject command the attention of a considerable portion of the public, went out of his way Saturday to "warn" housewives to discharge their household servants, in order to escape "privations, due to the lack of food and other necessities."

But why should servants be put out of employment merely because of a state of war? Persons who cannot afford household help should not employ it under any circumstances, but if they can afford it during the war there is no reason on earth why they should not do so. Most of the servants are women. The majority of them are not fitted for any other kind of work. They would be of little use on the farm, even should it become necessary to mobilize women and send them out to farm labor.

The following is from the statement of the president of the Chicago Board of Trade, issued yesterday:

There is plenty of grain in the country to carry us through. If it were not for hysteria, this wild frenzy which has seized America and the allied governments, in fact the whole world, there would be no such prices paid for wheat as at present. Not only are the governments at war buying with frenzy, but the neutrals as well. Governments all over the world seem crazed with the idea of getting grain. There is no need of this. If this hysteria could be forgotten, grain would drop.

There is too much wild advice by amateurs, who know nothing about grain or its production.

This applies to many other phases of hysteria besides that centering around grain.

The highest service can be rendered during the present crisis by sustaining the normal equilibrium of internal affairs, and every effort to do this should be exerted. It is reckless disservice to disturb normal conditions unnecessarily and to attempt to promote an unhappy psychologic condition by thoughtless advice.

BURNING IDEAS.

Treasure is found in the most unexpected places. For example, who would have thought of looking to the State Department of Education for a serious excuse for the inordinate mass of proposed bills introduced at each of the last several sessions of the legislature, and especially just at the close of a legislative session that will be recorded in history as doing less and omitting more than any other in this State's annals?

Yet an inspection of the "California Blue Bulletin," published by the State Department of Education every three months, will disclose an admirable brief for the legislators written by Mr. Will C. Wood, commissioner of secondary education. Mr. Wood courageously declares that each of the 2473 bills, 45 resolutions, and 89 constitutional amendments introduced at the last session contains at least one idea, many of them a great number of ideas. Mr. Wood admits some of the ideas are good, others are bad, others are half-baked, and others are utterly worthless. But this should not discourage the reckless and indiscriminate practice of introducing bills, even though the cost of print paper is ruinous.

These bills, writes the commissioner of secondary education, "are the products of the thinking and experience of individuals or groups of citizens, most of whom are anxious to contribute something to the public welfare." * * * We should be thankful that at least 2607 people in California, one out of every 1500 of the population, have ideas on governmental problems."

No doubt the public will be glad to have its general impression corrected by Mr. Woods. It has been the belief, erroneous it appears, that the multiplicity of legislative projects, "half-baked" and "utterly worthless," was due to the absence of thinking and experience. Also it was not the general understanding that each bill represented an idea from a different individual. The records of the legislature have tended to create the impression that some members were at one time possessed of several hundred ideas, all of which they tried to reduce to the form of legislation.

But California should be most grateful to the Commissioner of Secondary Education for the vision of hope he outlines. He says, by way of encouragement:

"Luther Burbank burned ten thousand vines to produce crimson escholtzia. Perhaps the legislature will have to burn many bills in order to produce a really progressive. I am convinced that the biennial thrashing out of ideas in the legislature is worth while."

Excepting the omission of an apology to Mr. Burbank, this is a happy defense for the most notorious characteristic of California's legislature.

FROM THE PEOPLE.

During the past week two messages were sent from the United States to the people of Russia that ought to create an understanding of the fact that the people of this country are deeply interested in the outcome of the present crisis in the Russian provisional government.

On May 7th, Mr. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, sent a long message to the Executive Council of the Workmen's and Soldiers' Deputies at Petrograd, in which he denounced as "criminal and pro-German," any suggestion that the members of the American war mission to Russia will seek to interfere with the internal affairs of that country, or will give any advice except with the common purpose of combating the common enemy. Among other statements Mr. Gompers cabled the following to the Russian representatives of labor:

"In view of the grave crisis through which the Russian people are passing we assure you that you can rely absolutely upon the wholehearted support and cooperation of the American people in the great war against our common enemy, Kaiserism. In the fulfillment of that cause the present American government has the support of 99 percent of the American people, including the working class of both the cities and the agricultural sections."

"America's workers share the view of Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' deputies that the only way in which the German people can bring the war to an early end is by imitating the glorious example of the Russian people, compelling the abdication of the Hohenzollerns and the Hapsburgs and driving the tyrannous nobility, bureaucracy and the military caste from power."

On Saturday the National Executive Committee of Socialists of America sent a stirring message to the Socialists of Stockholm, Copenhagen, The Hague and Berne, to the effect that the Kaiser and Kaiserism must go, and that the war against Germany must be continued by the democratic people of the world until this result is achieved. This message is to be transmitted to the Socialists in Germany.

Both these messages will go far toward convincing the people of Germany that America's war is not a project of the President and the government only, but represents the spirit of the American people, and that their determination to safeguard democracy and civilization will not be satisfied by anything short of complete victory.

What is called the green fruit industry is assuming great proportions in this state. It will take 15,000 cars to move it this year. It is estimated that the deciduous tree fruit crop will be about the same as last year, but that the grape crop will be 10 per cent larger. This estimate does not, of course, include wine grapes. The orange crop is distinctive and not included in this calculation. It is estimated that it will reach a volume of 50,000 cars this year. There is a prospect that all fruit products will be in unusual demand, at prices beyond the ordinary. The increased demand for dried fruits will relieve the fresh fruit market, and insure the utilization of the crop much closer than is generally the case. Last year, because of the low price for dried peaches, for instance, large quantities of the fruit were allowed to go to waste.

The war sentiment in China, as to war with Germany, as far as it can be gauged by the despatches, is singularly divergent. The press is against war, and the House of Representatives has refused to pass a resolution declaring it. The premier favors it, but is able to influence the masses, which are emphatically for war, having gathered about the parliamentary houses when the opposition vote was taken and threatened violence. The grounds upon which the press opposes the war party is that the republic is not well enough set to safely withstand a state of war, with the increased army and military status.

RESPONSE OF THE COLLEGE MEN.

(New York Sun)

The United States has reason to be proud, and more than proud, of its college men in this year of patriotic devotion and sacrifice. The reports received by the Sun in answer to inquiries addressed to the heads of institutions for higher education show that students and faculty alike are animated by the most fervent patriotism, and that from no other class comes more general and hearty response to the nation's appeal for service.

An interesting feature of the participation of the colleges, in the work of national defense is the extent to which practical effort has been given to both sections of the slogan raised by a Western university: "To arms! To farms!" Every college, except a few in the cities of the East, reports large bodies of its students excused to take up farm work. Some Western colleges report themselves stripped of all students of military age and physical fitness. Many colleges are offering courses in special phases of military and naval service, as for example one at Dartmouth on military stores keeping in preparation for quartermaster's or ordnance department work. Columbia plans courses on trench warfare, military map making and electric naval control. The Massachusetts Institute of Technology is pressing instruction in shipbuilding. Princeton and many other colleges have schools of aviation. Military drill is practically universal in the universities and colleges of the nation.

What the colleges are teaching is of importance and of notable service. But it is what the college boys are doing that makes the blood pulse faster in the veins of the older folks who read the bucking of these lads to the colors. The Naval Reserve is getting them by the thousands. So too the officers' reserve camps. University hospitals are going to France almost weekly. The government has not yet provided enough aviation schools to take care of one-tenth of the collegians who seek enrollment in that service. As a result they are getting their instruction at their own expense. They are flocking for enlistment in the National Guard, the regular army and the navy.

Authorities in charge of the schoolboy food-raising proposition are getting very nervous lest the youthful husbands don't see their task through. Sowing crops, especially wild oats, comes by instinct and is readily undertaken, but it is feared that the reaping is not always reaped.—San Jose Mercury.

NOTES AND COMMENT

We might as well cheer up. The worst may be yet to come. Herbert C. Hoover says that without government control flour will go to $20 a barrel, and wheat to $5 a bushel. If this is true we may be only in the shank of the trouble.

This from the Express indicates one vulnerable point: "Gee, this proposed war tax of 10 cents a pack on playing cards is about the most serious blow yet aimed at the peace and prosperity of Los Angeles."

This is an entirely new cause. A divorce complaint has been filed by Laura Beguhl, one of the counts being that defendant placed an urn containing the ashes of dead relatives on her dresser. May have been an unpleasant act, but if the Legislature made it a cause for divorce there is no record of the Governor having signed the bill.

The Gustine Standard drops this hint to a celebrated poet of San Joaquin valley: "Wonder why Hoffman doesn't dip in about the flag, or patriotism, or the soldier boys, or something? Seems like pretty inspiring subjects."

The lettering of the city official ass is all right. Now what had best be done to the city employees who take them out surreptitiously for joy rides? Some other process than lettering will have to be adopted to meet their cases.

Unqualified opinion of the Gustine Standard: "The optimist is generally an ass. So is the pessimist, more so if possible. Keep in the middle of the road."

Story from the San Diego Union: "As an advertisement Charlie Oesting has been giving away pocketbooks. They have Oesting's name on them. One found its way into the hands of a woman, who lost it. The pocketbook was returned to Oesting's office the other day. It contained one much-used powder puff, a small bottle of scented water, a buttonhook, a silver pencil, a small box of face powder, a calendar, a date book, a check book with a small balance, and other feminine trifles. The man who found it thought it was Oesting's and professed not to say a word."

Mrs. Reed's brotherly love, told of by the Gold Hill News: "Mrs. Reed was out in their new Saxon last Sunday, and had quite a crowd of friends and relatives with her. It's fine to see the owner of a car extend the little courtesy of a joy ride to the less fortunate. It counts more than many people realize. It's a sample of the spirit of brotherly love."

The Chico Enterprise sizes the situation up: "The 200,000 men seeking commissions as army officers need not be discouraged by the announcement that there are places for only 40,000. There is plenty of room in the ranks for the remaining 160,000."

The Board of Education of Gold Hill has a session, particulars from the News: "The School Board met last Monday evening at the Drug Store and transacted the usual business."

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

"Resolved. That the girls should wear colored dresses at commencement," was debated Thursday morning. The negative side won, which means that it was a victory for the white dresses. The negative argued that white is the conventional color that its symbolism is to be considered; that a cheap white dress is prettier than a cheap colored one, and that graduation exercises are not staged as a fashion show.—Marin Journal.

The conscription bill as finally agreed upon between the House and the Senate is not as good as that originally introduced by the general staff, but it is a very acceptable compromise between the minor errors injected into it by the Senate and the greater errors added by the House.—Fresno Republican.

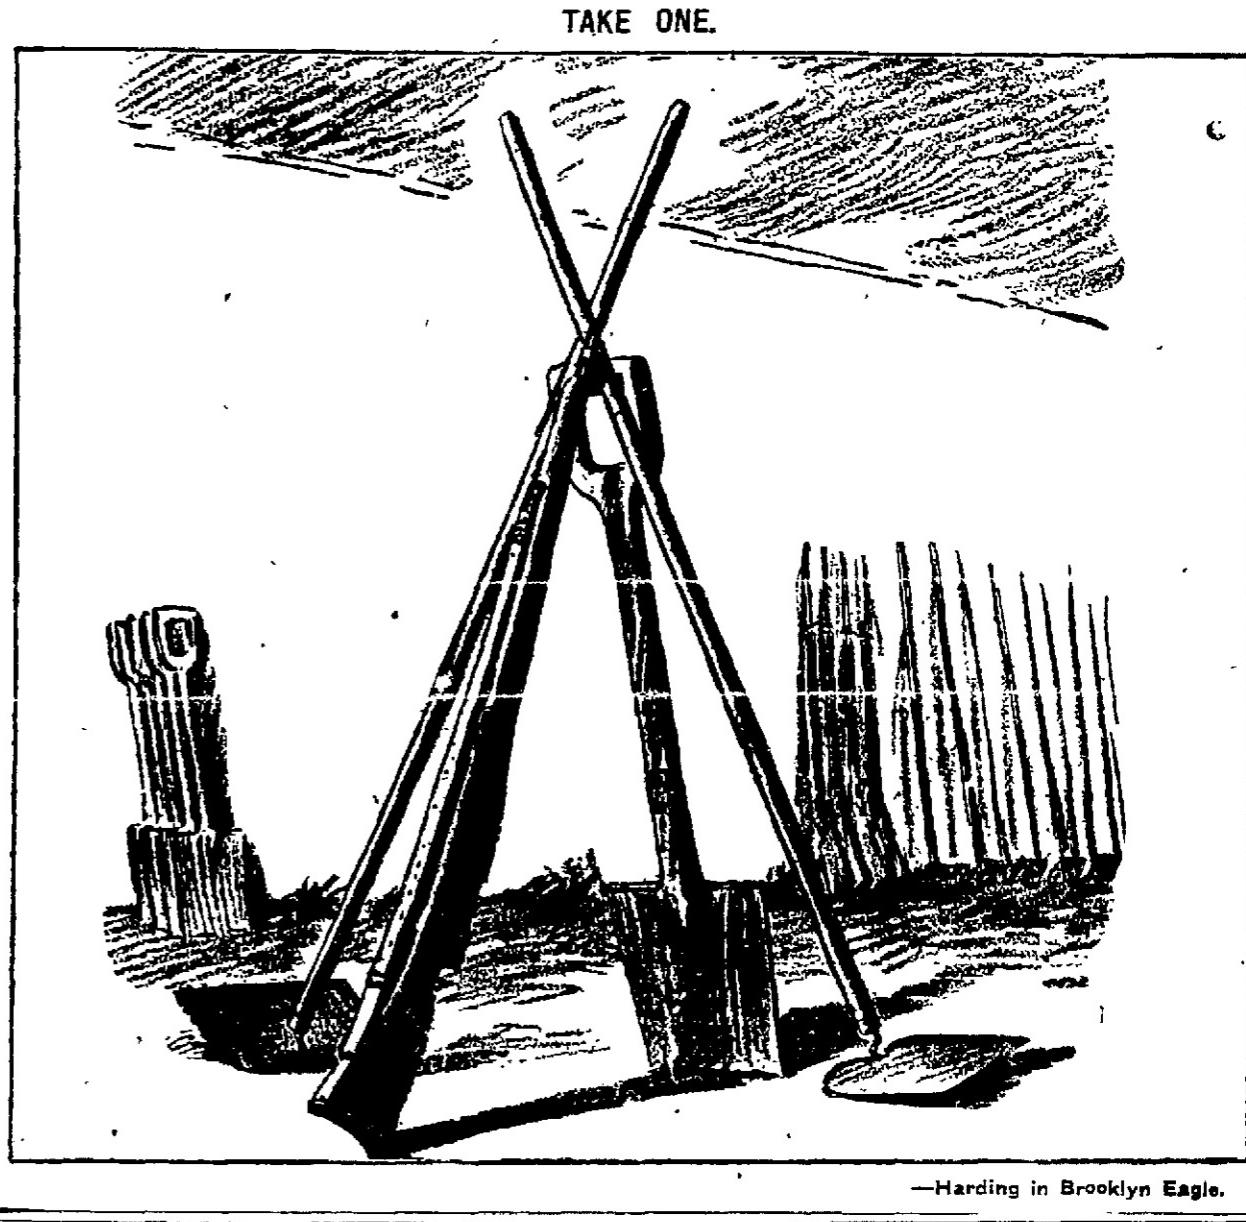

Arizona abolished capital punishment, and lynch law arrived at almost the same instant. A shocking crime stirred the people of the neighboring State. A murderous wretch killed a man and violated his wife, and then had the hardihood to boast that the worst he could get would be comfortable quarters for life at the State's prison. Indignant men did what red-blooded men elsewhere would have done—they took the prisoner out of the hands of the law and administered illegal but deserved capital punishment.—San Bernardino News.

At the recent State farm picnic there were, by actual count, 14,673 people in attendance. The number of automobiles was 2346. People came from as far south as Santa Barbara and as far north as Eureka. The State farm picnic has become a most noteworthy event.—St. Helena Star.

The statement that the Sperry Flour Company will increase the rate of pay to most of its workmen, from the first of May, is a very happy response to the situation, declaring a bonus to those who create the material which goes forth from the company's mills in this city. Those who do the work and are confronted with the high cost of living will certainly welcome the changed attitude of their employers, who appreciate the facts of the situation and have advanced the pay of those who have proved themselves faithful in the strenuous work of production.—Stockton Record.

The Governor signed the bill repealing the newspaper signature law. As long as it was on the statutes newspapermen were menaced. The law was never a success. It required that every article be signed by the reporter or editor who wrote it. Its foolishness was illustrated by the fact that every personal and local mention would have had to be signed.—San Francisco Echo.

THE OLDER MEN.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

Please permit me to call the attention of the reading public to what I believe to be a wrong attitude toward one feature of that great and very gravely important problem at this time, "preparedness."

The press of the country informs us that many of the railroad corporations and other large employers of labor have given orders that whenever positions or jobs become vacant owing to the enlistment of their employees, said positions shall be filled, wherever possible, by women. This plan may be later entitled to the name of "wisdom," but not yet.

In those states and communities where statutes have compelled equal remuneration for specific work, regardless of the sex of the work, it has been noted that in most instances the men have secured preference, and this has invariably operated to enable the men to make an ample living for their families, allowing the wives to properly care for the homes and the children, keep the latter in the schools to a proper age, and produce by home and school advantages and influences citizens fitted for perpetuation of our free institutions.

What with the substitution of women for men on many jobs not well suited to the women, and the almost universal calls in the classified advertising columns for "young men" only, there is being overlooked and left in the discard a very large and efficient labor force—the elderly men.

A large percentage of this latter class is more competent for many positions than the "young" men advertised for and chosen. Because of age, experience and well developed judgment, these elderly men are superior to many of the young men in every particular save physical strength and endurance, which in many cases is an unnecessary qualification.

When these elderly men are considered for many of the positions that the railroad and other corporations have in mind to be filled by women, not even the lack of extra physical strength and endurance can be raised against them as a bar, when compared with the women, and their previous occupation and experience should give them some advantages.

The foregoing remarks are not intended to disparage the ability and usefulness of the women, for the writer is confident that, should occasion demand, the American women will be found more practical and resourceful than those of any other nation, largely due to their democratic environment, but the elderly men in this country have for many years suffered the injustice herein suggested.

For several years past a Chicago organization has been very successful in securing employment for the elderly men of that city. Today there is also the added reason, above suggested, why Oakland's preparedness plans should include a similar organization.

EXTREMITIES OF ECONOMY.

One of the oddest chapters of the history of the war will tell of the efforts to economize. In England the king and queen are doing without potatoes five days in the week. In Sweden the railroads are trying to use peat as fuel. But the climax comes in Germany, where it is forbidden to put cuffs on trousers or belts on overcoats.—Buffalo Express.

CONVENTION IS OPENED IN OAKLAND.

More Than 1400 Sunday Schools Are Represented at Session; Cities Represented.

Notable Speakers to Be Heard in Four-Day Meeting; State Conference Is Important.

With delegates from more than 1400 Sunday schools north of Tehachapi pass in attendance, the northern division of the California State Sunday School Association opened preliminary session of the big four-day jubilee convention in the Oakland Convention Auditorium here today. The roster of delegates exceeded 3000 persons.

Following the work of registration, the convention formally opened with State President Albert Leisure in the chair. All divisions joined in an initial devotional service under the leadership of Dr. William H. Oxtoby, which was followed by divisional conferences of the various segments in preparation for the main business of the convention. Scores of delegates who came in on special trains arrived in time to participate in the divisional conferences.

Full programs are to mark the four days of the convention. Eminent speakers from various parts of the United States will address the various assemblies and a good share of the work will be carried on in different meetings simultaneously. The convention itself is one of the most important held in State religious circles, and comprises all sectarian beliefs interested in the Sunday school, more Baptists, Methodists, Presbyterians and members of other denominations rubbing elbows in amity and accord today, keenly interested in the common purpose in which all were engaged.

LECTURER HEARD.

W. C. Pearce, well-known lecturer, was the principal speaker at the main session of the convention in the auditorium this afternoon. His topic was "The Adult Division of the Sunday School—Its Scope, Aims and Means," and was the opening address of the convention. He was followed by Marion Lawrence, who spoke on "The Bible Class and the Home Department." At the conclusion of the addresses visits were paid by delegates to the various publishers, missionaries and educational agencies which are being shown in connection with the convention.

Almon John L. Davis is to formally welcome the delegates on behalf of the City of Oakland tonight. Rev. Frank J. Van Dorn will extend a greeting on behalf of the local churches. The balance of the evening will be taken up by the appointment of committees, arrangement of the work of the convention along program lines and an address by W. C. Pearce on "Christian Conquest." In the elementary division, which met under the direction of Mrs. Robertson Burley, Mrs. C. C. Champlin, Mrs. George W. White and Mrs. G. H. Atkins addressed and reports on juvenile activities were received.

Professor Earle G. Linsley was the principal speaker at the secondary division conference held during the afternoon in connection with the main session of the convention. His topic was "The Motive of Team Work—Training Leaders," by Mrs. J. N. Ward, of the Class A Center for Social Service, by Miss Blanche Wachob, and a general discussion of the activities of that division formed the main feature of the afternoon's work.

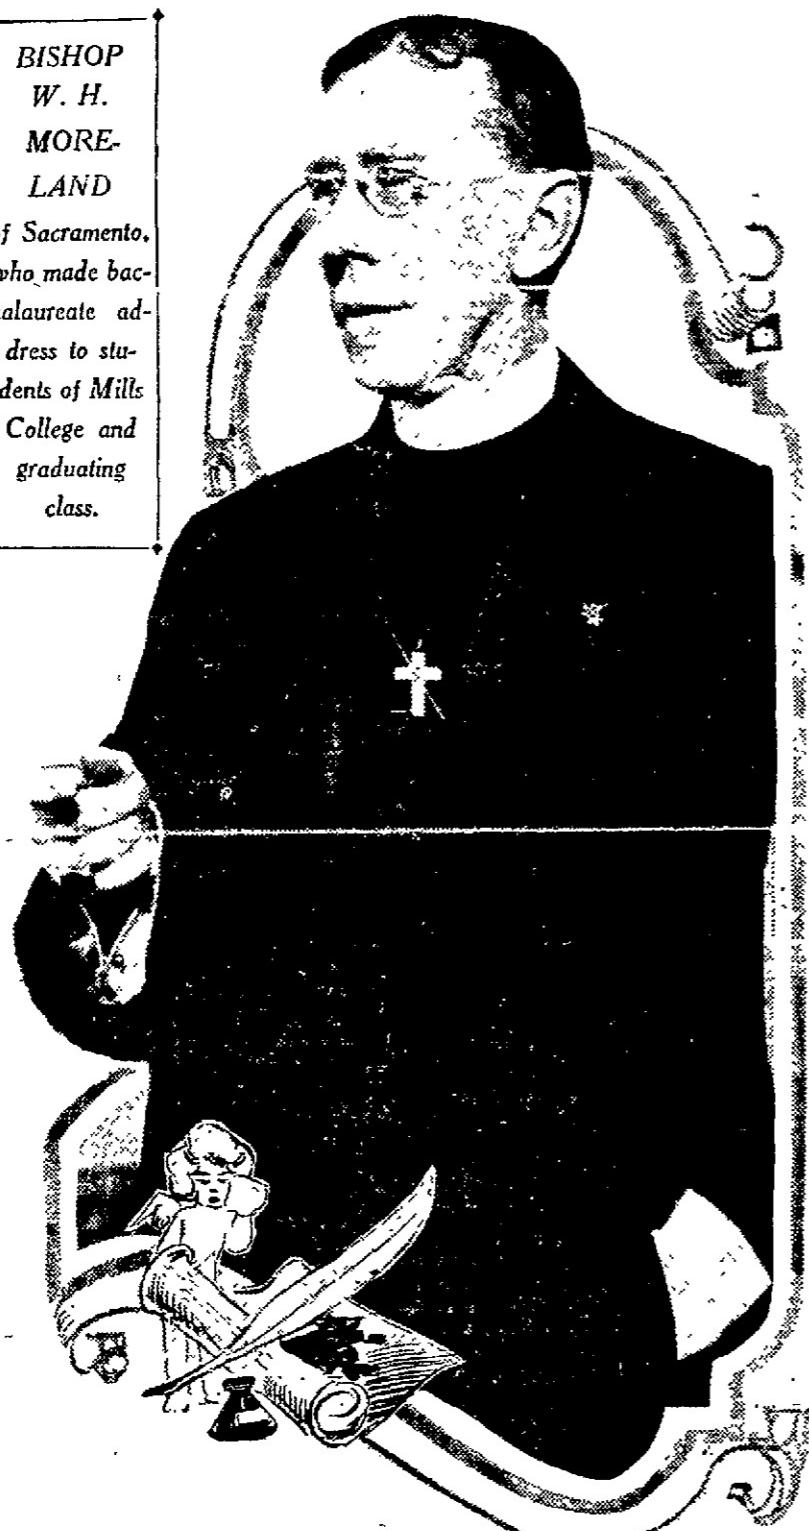

There will be separate meetings tomorrow of the elementary, secondary and adult divisions during the morning. The main session of the convention will be open at 2 o'clock in the auditorium.

SERVICES PLANNED.

The president of the association will preside. In the evening there will be a lecture on "The Tabernacle in the Wilderness," by Dr. Allen Moore; a song service, and an address on "The Educational Program of the Sunday School," by Marion Lawrence. The balance of the convention sessions will be taken up with addresses on various matters of interest to the delegates, song and prayer services and committee reports and meetings, in addition to the main sessions.

Bishop Moreland, in Baccalaureate Address, Tells of Necessity of Conserving Womanhood delivered yesterday to the students and graduating class of Mills College. Right Rev. William H. Moreland, bishop of the diocese of Sacramento, urged the conservation of American womanhood as one of the main objectives of national life, and exhortation with biting emphasis the trend of feminine factors toward idle frivolity.

The robbers fired another round and Beltzhoover went down with a bullet through the heart. Yoste was shot in the hand. The robbers fled through Forest street and for three blocks a growing crowd at their heels. When capture seemed imminent they jumped into an automobile, turned and fired shots and made off.

U.S. CALL FOR ENGINEERS THIS WEEK

The work of recruiting the Western Division's regiment of engineers in France will begin early this week, operations having been started by the arrival yesterday at the Presidio at San Francisco of Colonel J. Bates Cavanaugh, of the United States Army, who will be placed in command of the regiment.

The full quota of 1060 men will be raised to active service as rapidly as possible. The men will be drawn from railroad offices and lines, reserve officers in the engineering corps, railroad and construction camps and firms and from the enlisted reserves of engineers. Assured of a co-operation and support of railroad officials, Colonel Cavanaugh declared today that he believed the work would be completed with the aid of the members of the senior classes at educational institutions on the Pacific Coast, which features military instruction, will be given an opportunity to enter the reserve officers' training camp at the Presidio as soon as practicable, it was announced at army headquarters here today. It is proposed to permit these men to enter the camps not later than June 12. They will be in addition to the 2500 men already enrolled.

Such students will enter the camp on the same basis as other student officers, agreeing to accept any commission offered them at the close of the camp.

PLAN FOR COMPANIES

The Sons of St. George and the Scottish clans of Oakland are planning to raise three new companies for the First Regiment, Oakland Volunteer Infantry, it was announced by Colonel Walter J. Petersen today. The Englishmen plan to raise two of the three companies, which will be organized with the understanding that they will see active service in the event the offer of the volunteer regiment is accepted by the government.

In the meantime the organization, with seven companies already formed, is drilling once a week in regimental formation and on other nights in company drill, under the command of Colonel Petersen and the company captains permanently elected.

There are still several vacancies in the ranks of the regiment and a number of officers are still needed.

Enlistment blanks may be obtained by applying at the office of the Chief of Police in the City Hall.

START TRAINING TOMORROW.

The first day's training of the stock of 2500 men from which the west's candidates for the first 10,600 forces for Uncle Sam's service will be drawn, will begin tomorrow promptly at 8:30 o'clock, when reveille will sound over the barracks at the Presidio for the beginning of the three months of intensive training.

The course of training during the first five days will consist in a general drill of all brigades, infantry practice hand-to-hand together as a unit. Domestic science courses which will start the men on their military careers and which is usually the first thing taught a "rookie" will consist of breadmaking and the like and will start the program. Eight hours a week instruction in general barrack usages and details will follow.

ORGANIZATION EXPLAINED.

Interspersed with the physical training and setting up exercises will be lectures on organization and drill regulations, the manual of interior guard duty and other matters.

WOODS AS NURSE MAKES HIT WITH HOWLING INFANT

Nursing an infant in the absence of its mother was a new duty performed by Lieutenant William F. Woods of the National Guard last night, according to his report today. A message reached the station that there was a disturbance in the home of F. M. Lewis at Alcatraz avenue and Dana street with the result that Lieutenant Woods responded. He heard the howls of an infant which had been left asleep on a summer porch. Its parents had gone to the movies, leaving the youngster to cry. Instead he awoke, alarmed the neighbors and when Lieutenant Woods arrived he produced a bottle after a search of the kitchen and was bounding the baby when the parents returned.

PATRIOTIC FIESTA WILL BE STAGED

"America," a choral pageant, intensely patriotic, will be staged in the Municipal Auditorium on the night of May 23, the eve of Decoration day.

This unique musical and scenic production, including a cast of more than 700, is to be presented by the Alameda County Chorus, in conjunction with the Grand Army of the Republic, and is sponsored by the festival committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

TREMENDOUS CAST.

In addition to the chorus of 300 voices, participants in the choral pageant will include various high school students, the Technical High School Cadets and band, members of foreign societies, soldiers and sailors and a quartette of soloists.

"America" is arranged in three periods of the nation's history. It takes in the evolutionary period identified by Washington and his colonials; the civil war period, with Lincoln as the central figure, and the present eventful period, with President Wilson the predominating influence.

Each period is unfolded in a series of thrilling stage pictures, tableaux with the chorus taking the place of the customary orchestra and illustrating the phases with appropriate songs.

VAST STAGE SPACE.

Not only the stage, but the greater part of the main floor of the Auditorium will be utilized in staging the great choral pageant. Campfires will glow from the spread of floor space, spectacular drills and army and navy maneuvers will be presented, illustrations of the periods which they represent.

Songs of the days of the revolution, stirring anthems and patriotic airs of civil war days, closing with a grand climax in the last period entitled "The Allies" will be among the evening's features.

PICTURE IN EXPLOSION.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 14.—An explosion today seriously damaged the Labor Temple here. Fire Warden Marvin said dynamite apparently had been used. One man, sleeping in the building, was injured.

WOMAN FREED FOR SHOOTING

Mrs. Anna Alden, 827 Arlington street, who yesterday shot her husband, Charles, in the right arm with a small caliber revolver during a quarrel, was released from custody today following an investigation of the case by the police and Miss Pauline McQuade, head of the State Protective Bureau. No complaint was issued. According to the report of Sergeant Ahern and Patrolman Wachler of the Northern station, the couple have frequently quarreled over domestic matters. Mrs. Alden said that she did not mean to injure her husband, only to frighten him. His wound is superficial.

BOYS URGED TO DO SERVICE IN FARMS OF STATE

SACRAMENTO, May 14.—In a special bulletin just issued by the three State Commissioners of Education, the high school boys of California are asked by Commissioner of Secondary Education Will C. Wood to do their share to increase the productiveness of the State.

Wood declares that the high school boy can materially assist in maintaining the men who are battling for the nation. Wood expects that young people enrolled in the California high schools, 100,000 strong, to do their best, according to their strength and ability.

WAR PROGRAM READY FOR LAWMAKERS

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The United States has been at war with Germany thirty-nine days and practically all the measures through which this government to do its part in the world's battle for humanity and civilization still are in the talking stage in Congress.

The actual accomplishments since President Wilson called the special war session on April 2 have been passage of the Selective Service, state of war with Germany and enactment of the seven-billion dollar loan law. Those who predicted Congress would provide the nation with the means of making war successfully and adjourned by June now have extended their estimates to the middle of August.

Pressed for speed by the administration on one side and on the other by constituents at home demanding action, Congress faces many big things to do and quickly if the aid of the United States in the world war is to be at its full value.

WAR PROGRAM.

As Congress today went into its thirty-seventh working day the war program stood:

War tax bill: Under debate in the House and up for public hearings in the Senate Finance committee. At the present rate of progress, it probably will be up before one house or the other for at least a month.

Army bill: In conference again to thresh over the action of the House in restoring the so-called Roosevelt amendment. It provides the army the allies need in France.

Food control bills: Debated one day in the House, an entirely different form of bill has been introduced in the Senate.

Shipping bills: The bill to vest legal title to the seized German ships in the government has passed both houses, but is in conference for reconsideration of differences. The bill to appropriate $400,000,000 to start on the great merchant fleet to overcome the submarine menace has not yet been introduced, and may not be, while plans are being discussed of paying for the ships out of the $7,000,000,000 loan. The bill to authorize the taking over of ship building facilities and ships building for foreign account has been introduced, but is not yet under consideration.

Espionage bill: The House in passing the bill retained the newspaper censorship section demanded by the administration, but did not enact an embargo section, which the administration wants to keep supplies from going to Germany through neutrals. The Senate bill has been held under debate, retaining such an embargo section, but entirely without a censorship provision. The real enactment of this bill probably will be in conference, where the administration will bring pressure to have both censorship and embargo sections inserted in acceptable terms.

PROHIBITION ISSUE.

Prohibitionists in the Senate have attached a section prohibiting the manufacture of intoxicating liquors from food grains. Various prohibition proposals are pending in the House. The normal strength of the prohibition forces in Congress, coupled with the high prices of food, present a likelihood of some action to prevent food-stuffs from being manufactured into liquor, at least during the war.

Federal reserve law amendments: These additions to the existing bank law were proposed by the administration to bring more banks into the Federal reserve system and by liberalizing the reserve requirements increase the gold holdings of the system more than $300,000,000. Congress was told their enactment would prepare the Federal reserve system for practically any shock it might be called upon to sustain.

In addition to these principal measures there are a few others which have administration sanction and which Congress will be called on to pass before adjourning.

Up to the present all the pushing influences of the administration are being concentrated to convince Congress it ought to have with the army bill, the bills to provide ships as the first means of combating the submarine menace and to enact laws to guard the country against the pinch of hunger.
